RECORD CROWDS AT REVIVAL TENT

YESTERDAY THE BIGGEST DAY OF ALL

Hundreds Turned Away Unable to Get in Last Night—Upward of 3,500 Men and Women Attend Two Afternoon Services—Fifty-Seven Start in New Life.

"I have lived here 51 years and I have never seen Alexandria so stirred up over religious matters as it is now," said an elderly lady at the meeting held for women in the First Baptist Church in this city yesterday afternoon.

Others have made statements of a similar character and the splendid manner in which the people have supported the evangelistic meetings by their attendance and interest must be gratifying indeed to the clergymen and laymen who have been instrumental in starting the campaign which has been in progress during the past three weeks. As a result 316 persons have been influenced to make a start toward leading a better life.

Saturday Evening Service.

The story of the restoring to life of the son of the widow of Nain, as related in the seventh chapter of St. Luke, was the subject of the sermon on Saturday evening, in which he brought out the fact that Christ was the great restorer, and sin the great destroyer. Sin causes all our sorrow, he said, and that the greatest sorrow is when death comes into the home and separates loved ones.

"It's sin that causes all your sorrows," said the evangelist. "Give me those three letters and I can tell you why you mourn. If there were no sin there would be no prisons;no asylums, no bars on windows; no locks on safes. With those three letters — s-i-n—you can see the serpent away back there in the Garden of Eden. It's the undertaker at every funeral. Don't fool, don't flirt with it; for it isn't safe! Because you say there's no hell dosn't alter the fact that there is, and if you go on in that way you'll only down your life in this world and the next."

The speaker referred to the young man who takes his first drink and cited his own personal experience very effectively. Referring again to the immoral practices of some people, he said:

"Some of you men wouldn't need a funeral sermon. All that would be necessary would be to bring in your casket and place a bottle of whiskey on it with a pack of cards, and then I'd call in your old pals and show them how you'd lived! And for you women, they could place on your casket a pile of clothes and other things, which I won't mention ,that would show up how your life had been spent!

He said he was asked to preach a sermon over a certain man and say some good things about him, but found he couldn't say them, so preached to the living, while the man's body lay there in the casket as a lesson to all.

"God only knows when you will be called. Don't blame him if you haven't lived as you should. The saddest sight God can look down upon tonight is the moral man and woman in this tent who will go out refusing to serve Him!

"I have more respect for Bob Ingersoll than for some of you people for he denied there was a God and died an honest man. There is no neutral ground, for God has said 'he that is not for me is against me'. And at the judgment he will ask 'what did you do with Jesus Christ?'

The evangelist said there is two processions passing through this world and that every person is in one or the other; that we might have our names on the Church roll and yet be in the procession leading to eternal death, said he:

"I seem to see in that one procession the drunkard, the bartender, who sold him the liquor and the people who gave him the license to sell it, also the murderer and the harlot, and last you who are not following Jesus.

"But some of you say you don't want to be classed with the common harlot. I'll admit you dont deserve it, but God says there are degrees in corruption but none in death. You may not be as bad as the harlot but if you don't accept Christ you are a member of the procession of death What will you do with Jesus?

Notes and Announcements

Rev. Gypsy Smith has accepted an invitation to go to Woodlawn and hold a service in the church there on Wednesday afternoon of this week at 2 o'clock. Prof. Cole and Miss Hoagland will accompany him. Rev. O. W. Triplett is pastor of the church.

A delegation was present at last night's service from Brooklyn, D. C.

A prayer service for men will be held tonight at 7:30 in the Southern Methodist church.

Meeting for Men.

The meeting for men held at the tent at 3 o'clock brought out from 1,500 to 1,800. A spirited song service preceded the sermon, also a solo by Prof. Cole, prayer being offered by Rev. E. B. Jackson of First Baptist Church. The text was the seventh verse of the sixth chapter of Galatians—"Be not deceived, God is not mocked. For whatsoever a man soweth that shall he also reap." Among other things the evangelist said:

"It's time for every man to face the facts, for God knows not only the best, but the worst about us. Don't live in a fool's paradise! You can fool the preacher, your employer, and some of the people, but you can't fool God. You can refuse Christ but remember He died for you.You can walk with Him to victory or you can say 'to hell with him' and go down to death eternal. But you owe all to Christ.

"Listen! we are sowing seeds today and many of us do the things that are wrong instead of those that are right. Sow a thought and you reap an act; sow an act and you reap a habit. I cannot blame anyone because I do wrong—I must blame myself. If you want to know the kind of harvest you will reap look at what you're doing. Some men will look over a life of tangled weeds! But nature will make you pay!.

"What are you living for? Politics? You'll get it, or if it's for the plaudits of the crowd, you'll get that—and then the world will drop you and pick up the next sucker that comes along!

"Stop playing the fool! If I had not an ounce of respect for myself, I'd try to do right for the sake of my wife and children. You cannot sin alone! Others must suffer.

Here the speaker drew a picture of the young man leaving his home in the country, going to the city, meeting temptation, falling into sin and an untimely grave closing the reference with:

"There is no real pleasure in sin! God loves us. Christ died for us, and He wants to save us from reaping the whirlwind!

"It is true that there is a heaven and a hell, and when I say there is not you might as well say the churches and all the ministers are wrong! Why, if it wasn't for God you wouldn't enjoy all the privileges you do. And remember that the soul that sinneth will surely die. I can turn my life into hell in ten minutes by doing what I ought not to.

"I don't know that my house will burn down, But I've got it insured! I don't know that there's a hell-fire but I've got my life insured! I am not doing as some of you fools are doing.

"Men, how long will you fool with sin? God wants us to get all the highest and best, in life, and I plead for you in Alexandria, this afternoon! For your wives and children! If you'll

Prof. Forrest Cole, chorister at the gospel tent on upper King street, following in the footsteps of Peter and John, concluded to go fishing last week. He hooked enough white perch to make a string nearly four feet long. We are told that St. Anthony delivered a sermon to the fishes on one occasion, and the picture illustrating this incident in the life of that good man represents the finny tribe formed in platoons looking up in the face of the saint. The professor seems to carry a charm for the fishes also. He and his companions caught 61 in all.

John Bruce Lyons, 11 year old, son of Lee Lyons of south Fairfax street, was discovered bruised and but partially conscious, lying beside the Electric Railway tracks near Royal and Wilkes street at half-past seven last night. Gorman, and later Conductor Buckley and Motorman Travers who were in charge of a car which had passed a short time before the boy was found, were cited to appear in Police Court as soon as the boy's injuries will allow of his being brought there. The quarantine laws are being strictly enforced by the local health board with regard to possible infection from infantile paralysis. Policeman Raymond Smith yesterday halted an automobile party coming into the city from the state of Pennsylvania for the reason that they had with them children under sixteen years of age. The people were on their way home to Florida. They appealed to City Health Officer, Doctor E. A. Gorman, who took the matter up by phone with State Health Commissioner Williams, at Richmond, asking for instructions. The commissioner ordered him to make no exceptions in enforcing the law, consequently the automobile party was compelled to go north again.

A LIVELY ELECTION

Competition For Council's Favor Tomorrow Night

The City Council will meet tomorrow night in the City Hall for the election of a Police Commissioner, four members of the School Board, a Health Officer, the Physician to the Poor, and several other officials. It is expected that some of the officials seeking re-election will find strong opposition and it is therefore predicted that the proceedings of the Council will be livelier than usual.

There has been much public misapprehension as to the election of the janitor, custodian of the City Hall and overseer of the poor house. These offices will not be vacant by law until July, 1917.

The principal interest will center around the bid for re-election of E. J. Shinn, the Police Commissioner from the First Ward, who will be opposed by O. W. Phillips and Dr. E. A. Gorman, Health Officer, who will be opposed by Dr. R. L. Wilkins. There will also be a fight for a successor to Harry D. Kirk, member of the School Board from the Third Ward, who is no longer a resident of the city. Aspirants for this office are W. H. Hellmuth, H. A. Stewart and Alexander S. Doniphan. Those whose terms now expire and who are unopposed for re-election to the school board are : J. Gilbert Cox, First Ward; S. L. Monroe, Second Ward, and Clifton Howard, Fourth Ward.

There is apparent no opposition to the re-election of Deputy Health Officer, Dr. James J. Garvey; physician to the poor, Dr. Walter A. Warfield, and Dispenser of Medicine, W. J B. Duncan.

OPPOSITION TO ALEXANDRIA DEVELOPS

ARMOR PLANT COMMITTEE ADDS NEW MEMBERS

Will Hold Important Meeting on Thursday Morning to Consider Data to be Presented to Secretary Daniels at Hearing Postponed Until October Tenth.

The date of the hearing of the claims of Alexandria for consideration as a site for the Government armor plant has been postponed, by Secretary Daniels, until Tuesday morning, October 10. An important meeting of the full membership of the local committee will be held in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce, at 11 o'clock, on Tuesday morning. At this time all the data to be presented to Mr. Daniels will be considered. It is expected that there will be a large attendance in view of the fact that there are yet many important details to be considered.

At a meeting of the original committee, held in the Chamber of Commerce this morning, the original committee considered reports of the sub-committees and also selected many citizens as an addition to their ranks.

The members of the original committee are:

Hon. Thos. A. Fisher, Henry K. Field, C. J. W. Summers, George H. Robinson, Howard W. Smith, Nicholas J. Lawler, Augustus J. Pohl, George D. Hopkins, W. A. Smoot, Jr., J. Louis Loose, C. S. T. Burke, W. W. Ballenger, Robert L. Payne, R. E. Knight, K. W. Ogden, S. W. Pitts, Leopold Ruben, C. B. Swan, H. Noel Garner, Joseph E. Schwarzmann.

The new additions to the committee are: M. B. Harlow, James R. Caton, A. D. Brockett, Gardner L. Boothe, Samuel Bendheim, J. W. Bales, W. E. Bain, Judge Louis C. Barley, William B. Smoot, E. L. Daingerfield, E. E. Downham, J. M.Duncan, T. J. Fannon, W. H. F. Finke, Leo P. Harlow, E. H. Kemper, Dr. Wm. H. Smith, P. E. Clift, Frank T. King, E. E. Lawler, Robinson Moncure, Judge C. E. Nicol Carroll Pierce, Judge J. K. M. Norton, Geo. E. Warfield, Frank R. Weller, R. Walton Moore, J. T. Preston, Edwin B. Hard, A. J. Wedderburn, Luther H Thompson, M. T. Dwyer, James F. Peyton, Richard L. Carne, J. Randall Caton, J. Fred Birrell, E. F. Ticer, H. E. Gentry, Wm. C. Hudson, W. R. Hamilton, C. M. Bruin, M. B. Apperson, P. T. Wade, Geo. W. Thornhill, Louis N. Duffey, C. H. Livingston, W. B. Emmerk, J. V. Davis.

That there is strong evidence to the effect that some of those cities desiring to acquire the government armor plant fear the claims of Alexandria has become very apparent in the past few days. From a reliable quarter the Gazette learns that it has been stated to Secretary Daniels that it would be impossible to secure a proper foundation, on the site proposed by the Alexandrians, for such heavy machinery as the tripple-hammers, and other necessary factors to the making of the heavy armor plate.

The Gazette has been informed, however, that a prominent Government engineer has made an examination of the site and states that the under bed is ideal, and is composed of gravel and rock which would permit the instalation of much heavier machinery than would be used in the plant.

It was at first thought that 40 acres would be all that would be required for the plant. It is now stated that 80 acres will be necessary, but this will not in any sense hamper the claims of Alexandria. There is that much, and even much more, suitable ground available for the required purpose.

POLICE COURT

(Justice H. B. Caton, presiding)

The following cases were disposed of this morning:

William Crigler, colored, charged with disorderly conduct, was dismissed.

Mary E. Payne, colored, charged with disorderly conduct, forfeited her collateral by failing to appear.

J. M. Kendall, charged with disorderly conduct, forfeited his collateral by failing to appear.

Lee Lyons, charged with disorderly conduct, was dismissed.

James Yates, charged with disorderly conduct, was fined $5.

William Simmons and J. E. Pettit, charged with disorderly conduct, forfeited their collateral by failing to appear.

Roy Johnson, colored, charged with cutting Mary Myers, colored, was fined $25.

Two white men, charged with habitual drunkenness, were given five days in jail.

SATURDAY NIGHT DISORDERS.

There were a number of disorderly occurances Saturday night and early yesterday morning. Sergeant Wilkinson and Officers Zell, Snellins, Henderson, Munday, Smith, Campbell and Power were kept busy at times in responding to calls. In some cases the offenders made their escape, but the officers succeeded in arresting ten nocturnal disturbers of the peace, some of whom forfeited their collateral and the others were made to face the Police Court this morning. Only two of the prisoners were colored.

The police are endeavoring to clear the streets of drunken and disorderly persons on Saturday nights. Many complaints are received from different sections of the city of the conduct of certain parties who strangely suppose Saturday night should be made an occasion for drunkenness and unseemly conduct on the streets.

Mr. Business Man:

In the final analysis all matter is resolved into atoms. This is as far as the scientists have gone. The tiny movement of these atoms—needing the strongest possible miscroscope to discern them—produces gradual change in the entire universe. Even our own bodies, the physiologists claim, are entirely changed once in seven years.

And so it is with business. Every once in a while a new competitor in your own particular line of business, enters the field. You are not perhaps as well known to as many people as you were a number of years ago even though you are still doing as much business as you have always done. The big point is ARE YOU DOING AS MUCH BUSINESS AS YOU COULD BE DOING? The opportunity is greater than it was ten years ago. In view of this are you getting the proportion of business that you did ten years ago?

It is on every hand recognized that advertising is the life of business. The obvious place for you to advertise is in the columns of your local paper—the friend of the people whom you must approach.

Yours for service,
THE GAZETTE.

HUGHES, TAFT AND COMPANY

What is undoubtedly planned concerted action on the part of Hughes and Taft is apparent in their very recent writings and speeches concerning the President's Mexican policy. And they appear especially wrought up about his non-recognition of Huerta.

It is difficult to understand how two men of the calibre we are willing to believe these men are can disregard obvious facts. Mexico was a thorn in Taft's side during the latter part of his administration. It was one of the legacies of trouble that he received from Roosevelt's tenure of office. The internal disturbances of Mexico dated from this latter's gentleman's administration. But the American capitalists had not then become so much disturbed over conditions in that unfortunate country as they are today. And that is the secret of all the present publicity. William Randolph Hearst, et al. are the men who are keeping Mexico in a foment. Men of his kidney do not want any rule in Mexico which will not permit capitalistic exploitation.

Taft and Hughes now assail Mr. Wilson particularly for his non-recognition of that proven assassin, Huerta; and for what they call his disregard of international law. During all of last year Mr. Taft, on numerous occasions, endorsed Mr. Wilson's attitude both as regards Mexican and European affairs. And now comes Mr. Hughes with a statement which practically accuses the President of double dealing in connection with the dispatch of John Lind as his special envoy to Mexico.

There is something very grievous about all this. It is not the first time that Mr. Hughes has been guilty of what seems hardly less than misrepresentation during the campaign. It is, of course, possible that he has been misinformed, but nevertheless the responsibility is his. He should exercise due care to scrutinise the information given to him. It is a sorry spectacle this, of a man allowing his eagerness for office to dim his perceptions of honor. And as in all his statements during the campaign Mr. Hughes is still exceedingly indefinite as to what he would have done or will do. His most emphatic statement in his latest speech reads:

"With respect to all nations, I stand here for the right of Americans four square to all the world."

Frankly, it is to smile, if not to laugh loudly.

WIFE CRUEL HUSBAND

There are many who will sympathize with the desire of Bayonne's police magistrate to return to the old days of punishing wife-beaters at whipping posts. The New Jersey judge gave voice to this wish after a brutal husband, for the second time in two months, was before him on the same charge, that of beating his wife. The poor woman, had pleaded for the fellow the first time and on her account he had been released. But he was soon at it again and the woman was obliged to seek protection. It was then that the justice yearned for the whipping post, in which event he asserted the cur he would fain have him to such a lashing as he would never forget. The Richmond Journal in referring to the above says: And why not? Little Delaware, we believe, holds to that form of punishment for wife-beaters and finds it the only adequate way of dealing with cowards. Nobody who has observed Justice would beat a coward and lashes on the bare back can alone strike terror into their miserable frames—not souls, they have not. Six lashes for every blow of fist they administer to their wives would be about right and the huskiest man in the state should be engaged to lay them on. The wife-beater is entitled to none of the considerations shown men; he is not in the "man" category. What does he care for a jail sentence? He is amply fed, the work imposed is not excessive and the day he gets out he usually goes home to wreak vengeance on his poor wife. If he knew that it meant thirty or forty lashes he would curb his treacherous instincts. In the far west the neighbors usually take care of such cases and they effect permanent cures. But in civilized communities like Bayonne that sort of neighborly discipline would be considered disrespectful of the law. God save the commonwealth!

MANY HEAR EVANGELIST.

It is often sneeringly observed that religion is a matter which interests women and children mostly, but that it fails to appeal to the masculine mind. If this be so, Sir Isaac Newton, John Milton, Samuel Johnson, William E. Gladstone, Pascal and thousands of others giants in intellect were effeminate and easily imposed upon.

It is unfortunately true that the bulk of the average church congregation is composed of members of the gentler sex. A minister in this city many years ago said he might suggest some extenuating circumstances for men who manifest little interest in the spiritual life, but he had no excuse for women. The great Being at the head of the Christian system was born of a woman, hence He should be dear to every one of the sex. The seed of the woman was to bruise the serpent's head. In the fulness of time this prophecy, the first delivered to the human race, casting into an eclipse. Hope, all that Paudora managed to preserve was fulfilled to the letter, as He was literally the seed of the woman.

Probably the largest assemblage of men ever seen in Alexandria apart from political gatherings was that yesterday afternoon in the gospel tent on upper King street, where Gypsy Smith delivered an address which was the general theme of conversation during the remainder of the day.

His text was most appropriate, and that he handled it vigorously is, of course, apparent to the thousands who have heard him during the past three weeks.

"Be not deceived; God is not mocked: for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap. For he that soweth to the flesh shall of the flesh reap corruption; but he that soweth to the spirit shall of the spirit reap life everlasting."—Galatians vi., 7-8.

There was another overflowing meeting last night. Every seat in the tent was filled long before the services began, while hundreds stood without drinking in all the evangelist uttered and listening to the spiritual songs.

THE RAMBLER.

Paragraphic Points Picked up by Our Man on the Street.

No one may share the really big things of life with us. In the first flush of a reciprocated love we think the beloved will, perhaps I should say that we feel sure he or she will. But as time slips past we find that love brings more keenly to us than ever the realization that there are trials and soul-testings, which we must endure alone—trials which often come out of that very love which we have once pictured as so all-sufficient.

Saturday night was a very black night. The stars in evidence seemed to lack real light-potency. My rambling feet took me to a spot in a little street on the edge of town and near the river, whence I could just barely distinguish the sombre, irregular outlines of a few fleecy clouds, floating lazily under the dark of the sky, through the dimly silhouetted leaves of the overhanging trees. There was about me the kind of dead silence such as one experiences in coming alone into an unlighted room of a house from which all other human beings are absent. The quiet was broken only by the thin wailing of a child somewhere close at hand and sounding a single crescendo note amid the dull, almost negligible diapason of Alexandria's conglomerate noises, as remote as if very far away, and, strangely enough, not detracting from the stillness around me.

A curtain of light from a passing automobile enveloped me for a moment or two and then I was left in an even deeper gloom. It is very good to get thus alone in the dark sometimes and I was so thinking when there came interruption. A young man and a young woman turned the corner of the street. In the instant of first hearing their voices I knew that they were quarreling. Before my will could coerce my limbs into action I heard them say many things to each other that I should not have heard; and which they should not have said.

They did not see me. They halted beneath the very faint street light. The girl—she was very pretty and not more than twenty years old—stamped one of her feet and cried, in a passion-choked voice:

"I hate you! I hate you! I'll never speak to you again!

Before he could answer she turned and ran swiftly away, disappearing amid the shades beyond the light.

The young man stood, irresolute, for a moment or two and then, with an oath on his lips he, too, turned away, but in an opposite direction.

I do not know why they quarrelled. The why matters little. It was probably over some trivial matter. How we human beings crucify others and ourselves! And most often for so slight a cause.

I wanted to help them. But what could I do? That's the pity of it. We cannot teach others from out our own personal experience. We write, we preach, We plead, but it seems that people must learn for themselves. And most often they must drink the bitter cup of life's hemlock to its dregs before they can attain peace. They can find it if they are strong enough to so will. But they must venture into the depths alone— they must find it for and by themselves.

Yesterday was sour and sorry?
Since its gone—why worry?
Today is here clean and new;
How 'twill end is UP TO YOU!

WOMAN'S BODY FOUND

Remains, Which Were in the River at Mount Vernon, Brought to This City

In the discovery of the body of a woman, with apparently no marks of identification, floating in the Potomac River near the flats, a short distance north of Mount Vernon estate, the authorities of Fairfax county, have a mystery to solve. The discovery was made at 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon by J. H. Davis, an employe at Mount Vernon, while walking along the seawall east of the deer park.

Securing the body with a rope, Mr. Davis notified by telephone Ticket Agent, Wellington C. Crockett at the Royal street station this city, of the Washington-Virginia Railway, who in turn notified the police of Washington and Alexandria and Magistrate Harrie White, of Mount Vernon district, Fairfax county. By direction of Magistrate White the body was brought to Wheatley's undertaking establishment, in this city where a coroner's inquest will be held at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

The woman was apparently about 45 years of age, medium height and weight, with regular features and iron gray hair about 15 inches long. The body was dressed in a black serge coat suit and black satin shirt waist. The feet were incased in black leather low-quarter shoes bearing the stamp "Marshall Field, 7B."

There was no jewelry on the body, and if the clothing had contained the name of the maker it had been carefully removed. The woman's hair had become loosened, and there was no hat in evidence.

It is thought that the body probably had been in the water less than 24 hours, which leads to the conjecture that the woman, after destroying all marks of identification, jumped from a river steamer on Saturday night. There were no marks of violence on the body.

Members of the Washington police force came here today and took photographs of the dead woman. Neither they nor the Alexandria police have descriptions of missing women which in any way correspond to the unidentified female.

Forty-eight aeroplanes were shot down on the western battle front in Europe during the past 24 hours.

ROSH HASHANA NEAR

Jewish New Year Festival Begins Wednesday and Will Continue Two Days

"On the New Year all the inhabitants of the earth pass before Him, as sheep before a shepherd." These are the words of the ancient Jewish law book, the Mishna, with reference to the Jewish New Season, which will open on Wednesday night at Sundown.

The services of the two Jewish congregations in Alexandria, the Reformed and the Orthodox, will be particularly solemn. Among the Reformed Jews these will commence on Wednesday night, in the synagogue, at 7:30 o'clock, and continue over Thusday, with a special service again on that morning at 10 o'clock. The ceremonies will be conducted by Rabbi Solomon Landman, of the Hebrew Union Seminary, Cincinnati, assisted by Benedict Weil, president of the Synagogue, and Julius Wolf, the secretary.

Abe L. Cohen states that the members of Congregation Agudas Achim are to bring the Rev. Rabbi Lucks, of Washington ,to conduct their services, which will also commence on Wednesday night and continue over both Thursday and Friday, in Sarepta Hall. During these High Holidays the places of business of all the Jewish merchants of the city will be closed.

The Jewish observances of this Holiday, as indeed of all others, are peculiarly solemn and inspiring. Prayers in poetry and prose, dwelling upon the theme of God's judgment of man are recited and sung. The Ram's Horn, the "Shofar," summoning men to prayer and repentance is sounded in all synagogues. At the close of the service the worshippers greet each other with the words, "May you be written down for a good year."

The Jewish population of Alexandria now numbers about 250 men, women and children. They are a very important part of the city's business life in that a great majority of the heads of the families are in business for themselves and their property investments are very considerable.

Of this number approximately 25 are among those who adhere to the orthodox form of worship.

Another important Jewish holiday will be The Day of Atonement or "Yom Kippur." which begins at sunset Friday, October 6 and ends at sunset of the following day. This is the most solemn of all the days in the Jewish Calendar. It is spent in fasting and prayer.

SEVERAL MEN IN FIGHT

Police Find Drunken Woman and Four Neglected Children in House on Commerce Street

One of the cases before the Police Court this morning was that of bestiality upon the part of a woman and several men, some of the latter being married. The woman and four children—three girls and a boy— accompanied their mother. The eldest is fifteen years old. They huddled around the woman who had given them life unconscious, apparently, of the awful conditions with which they had been surrounded. Ida Saunders is the woman. She is a widow, apparently about 40 years old. She came to Alexandria from Quantico several months ago and took up abode at No. 328 Commerce street, which, it appeared from an investigation of the case, immediately became the retreat of several men, mostly young and married. The woman early Saturday night attended a religious meeting on a street corner, returning to her home about eleven o'clock. Some time after midnight a row started in her house and when the police entered she was found stretched upon the floor drunk, and it was impossible to arouse her. A fight had taken place between two men, and five of the inmates were taken in custody. Broken dishes and demolished furniture were scattered about the place.

William Simmons and J. E. Pettit, two of the party, left collateral for their appearance in the Police Court this morning. They failed to appear, however, and John Gillmartin, Lee Lyons and J. W. Sullivan, the others were brought into the dock.

The evidence was revolting, it being stated that the fight was precipitated when a man undertook to lead the fifteen-year-old girl astray, and was struck by one of the men in the house at the time.

Justice Caton, after hearing all the evidence, sent the woman to the workhouse and ordered the children to be turned over to the authorities of the Children's Home.

The case against the men was continued until tomorrow, when the men who left collateral will be arraigned together with another of the party who could not be found Saturday night nor yesterday.

Thirteen accepted the invitation, which, with the two at the woman's meeting and 42 who came out at the evening service made a total of 57 for the day.

Meeting for Women.

Upwards of 2,000 ladies attended the prayer meeting held in the First Baptist Church yesterday afternoon at 3:30. Prof. Cole had charge of the service, going there direct from the tent, where he had been leading the song service at the men's meeting.

After the opening song Prof. Cole told the ladies that if they expected their prayers to be answered, they must first examine their own hearts, then get in the right attitude for prayers and do all they could to help answer each prayer, otherwise, God could do nothing. He referred to an instance which occurred at one of the cottage prayer meetings held in the city, a few days ago, where there were forty women present and only five of them could pray.

Mr. Cole then turned the meeting over to the ladies for voluntary prayer and testimonials to which a great many responded. As he gave the invitation for any who wished to make a start in the Christian life, which two accepted, he said; "A great many people have an idea they are going to be saved a certain way, but we can only be saved God's way."

Owing to lack of space in this issue the sermon delivered last night will be published in tomcrrow's Gazette.

SUFFERED STROKE OF PARALYSIS---COULD NOT WALK OR TALK.

Confined to Bed Six Months, She Now Claims Dreco Cured Her.

"During my long experience in the medicine business and coming in contact as I do with thousands of people who have praised Dreco in the strongest terms, I consider the most startling statement ever given me is from a woman in Baltimore," said the Dreco Man. He was referring to Mrs. Randolph Burton of 415 Tyson St., In a signed statement she says: "To look at the way I walk now and consider how far I came to get this bottle of Dreco, you will hardly believe me when I tell you that when I took my first dose of this medicine I was flat on my back in bed with a stroke of paralysis and could not speak a word. I was absolutely helpless and had to be turned over in bed Every bite of food was given to me in my mouth. I had been in bed six months and during this time I was treated by several good doctors, but I failed to show any improvement. My folks were all discouraged over my condition and lost all hope of me ever getting well again. I suffered terrible pains in my back and limbs, I had no appetite and got very thin and weak. A friend visiting me one day suggested I try Dreco, and being to the point where I'd try most anything I began on it. My improvement was very rapid and I was so I could sit up some and talk a little. My appetite returned and by eating more and digesting it well my strength increased. The pains in my back grew less severe and I knew I was again on the road to health and happiness. I have taken three bottles ,and I feel new life tingling in every nerve. Of course, I occasionally have a bad day or two, but I expect to take several more bottles and believe I will eventually be sound and well."

When the liver, kidneys or bowels become inactive the system fails to throw off the poisons, and slowly, day by day, we are weakening our bodies till a breakdown comes. Sometimes it takes the form of the above case. Dreco causes the organs to carry off these toxins and waste matter and keeps the system free of these poisons.

Dreco is sold exclusive in Alexandria by Allen's Drug Store.

Record Examiners Are on the Trail of Virginia Tax Dodgers

Richmond, Sept. 25—Receiving direct and positive instructions from the state tax board, the examiners of records are preparing to bring to book all stock brokers, real estate agents and individuals who represent taxpayers or themselves in dealing with the matterSe—urdays dealing with the state and cities and counties in the matter of making payments for taxes. Indicating the thoroughness of the investigations, letters are being sent to every broker and agent in this circuit to report to Examiner Sands at once the names of those they represent, to make lists of all properties of the intangible class they have under their control and to declare for what years such taxes have been omitted.

Examiners in every circuit in the state have received a list of the owners of stocks in all foreign concerns, with the names of the concerns and the amount of the shares held, together with their market value. In addition, the examiners have collected data that will serve to refresh the memory of representatives of such owners, and where they may fail to make correct returns the examiners are ready to supply the amount of such intangibles, the name of the company, its location, the value of the holdings by persons resident in Virginia and to assess the taxes.

Every year in which such intangibles have been owned in Virginia, and every year in which they have been omitted for taxation, is known to the examiners. The state proposes to collect the taxes that have been omitted for years, and the determination of the tax board is to sustain the examiners to the full extent of the law. Opportunity was afforded this year for all delinquents to pay up and escape penalty. Comparatively few availed themselves of this privilege The state will now proceed to enforce the laws.

About $100,000,000 has been added this year in intangibles for taxation. That is less than 25 per cent of the property of this class owned in Virginia. Together with what has been reported in the past, the total is now about $200,000,000 according to the most reliable, but approximate, estimates. That there is in Virginia not less than $500,000,000 of this property is the belief of those who are familiar with holdings known to exist. Those sections which heretofore have not been noted for the large amounts reported will in future be listed as Circuits that have hidden wealth which has escaped taxation. Disclosures that will prove interesting, possibly embarrassing, may be furnished the public when the reports of the examiners have been completed. Major Sands, of this circuit, is on the track of the owners of concealed intangibles.

A great political crisis is slowly developing in Germany, The pan-Germans, before the opening of the reichstag, are making every effort to overthrow Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg. The Berliner Tageblatt is quoted as saying; "Tension in the atmosphere of imperial politics has reached such a high point that a discharge must follow if the empire is not to suffer lasting damage." It is said that the pan-Germans are fighting for a policy of ruthless submarine warfare, the only obstacle to which is the imperial chancellor.
